Views Evidence—Mrs. Claire Borin (above), wife of Nathan Borin, Chicago millionaire, looks at a portrait of Pepper Donna (right), former Winthrop beauty, whom she will name in her divorce action. The picture was found along with several articles of Pepper's clothing in her husband's apartment, Mrs. Borin said. Borin said Pepper had been occupying his apartment for several weeks because of the "housing shortage." At the same time, Mrs. Borin threatened to name as another correspondent in her divorce suit the well known Chicago dancer, Miss Patricia Schmidt, who now is on trial at Havana charged with killing John Mee, Chicago yachtsman, aboard the latter's yacht at Havana several months ago.

Whisky Distillers Expect No Banning of British Grain

LONDON, Oct. 9 (INS)—A spokesman for the Scottish Whisky Distillers Ass'n declared today that the British distilling industry is unlikely to emulate the American 60-day shutdown to conserve grains. The official United States decision to request European grain receiving countries to duplicate the American shutdown placed Britain in an extremely awkward position.

Philip Gee, London, representative for the association, pointed out that the "circumstances are different in Britain."

Gee said: "The stocks of British distillers are far below normal. America is presently overstocked and I don't think the curtailment will affect the American distillers seriously."

"Before the war," he said, "the British industry consumed 300,000 tons of grain in producing 30 million proof gallons annually. Grain consumption in Britain in 1946 was 130,000 tons to produce 13 million gallons."

"Allocation to date for the 1947 production year comprises 100,000 tons from the 1946 crop and 75,000 tons from the 1947 crop. This is equivalent to 17½ million gallons."

Diplomatic sources pointed out that the situation will have to be managed with utmost finesse to escape possible American criticism.

The export of scotch whisky is one of Britain's biggest and easiest dollar earners and the labor government has been doing its utmost to get the distillers to increase production in order to facilitate heavier exports to the U. S. and other hard currency areas.

U. S. Supersonic Planes Do 1700 MPH in Tests

By ROBERT S. BALL

CLEVELAND, Oct. 9 (AP)—American robot rocket planes have crashed the sonic barrier at blistering speeds in the neighborhood of 1700 miles an hour, a high government official revealed today.

The flights have been carried on for months from a lonely island off the Virginia coast, where the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics has a small experimental station.

This disclosure of American progress in the field of supersonic flight—faster than the speed of sound—was prompted by accounts from England of the 900-mile-an-hour flight of pilotless rocket craft.

As in the English experiments, the American rocket ships are launched at high altitude from a fast-flying bomber. Their controls are present to send them diving into the sea after a flight of 20 to 30 miles.

Telemetering devices installed in the robot automatically transmit pertinent data to observers aloft and on the ground. Radar also is used to track the rocket plane throughout its brief but sensational flight.

"It will not be many months before we have a piloted aircraft break through the Sonic Barrier (750 miles an hour at 50,000 feet), although he will be flying a turbo-jet plane with a rocket boost," the government spokesman said.

It was revealed that great progress had been made in perfecting controls for the supersonic aircraft, whose wings are so sharply swept back that they resemble a "V."

U. S. Seeking Censure of Red Puppets

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 9 (AP)—The United States, apparently certain of victory in its fight for a United Nations "watchdog" commission in the Balkans, made plain its intention to press for UN condemnation of three Soviet satellites accused of responsibility for Greece's border troubles.

An American spokesman declared the U. S. delegation would deviate from its position only if the three accused nations—Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria—officially agreed to co-operate with the border commission, which was approved by the UN's 57-nation political commission late yesterday by a 34 to 10 vote.

The spokesman added that the three nations had made it evident they had no intention of complying—an assertion to which Bulgarian delegate, Boris Athanasov, gave weight by telling interviewers:

"They (the U. S.) have the majority and can keep voting resolutions. They can decide this wall is black if they want to. This is a maneuver. It is railroad—railroad and we refuse to take part in it."

The vote on the Greek border watch came as the political committee balloted clause by clause on U. S. proposals for preserving peace in the Balkans. The committee's decisions will go to the Assembly for final approval after it completes action on the U. S. proposals.

Bewildered Hub Eats 1st Eggless Breakfast

Boston went without eggs for breakfast voluntarily today for the first time in history as a storm of protest from restaurant owners, grocers and poultrymen mounted over President Truman's program calling for eggless and poultryless Thursdays.

Some restaurant owners reported that patrons who ordinarily had eggs for breakfast were ordering meat instead, throwing the entire conservation program for a loss.

They also noted a deep cut in sales, since most restaurant breakfasts are based on eggs in some form. Patrons who did not substitute meat for their usual eggs ordered cereals, at less cost, a general survey indicated.

Household compliance with the program of going without eggs and poultry each Thursday was noted in the sales reports from:

grocers, both independent and chain.

CHAINS REPORT DROP
The three large chains reported a drop of approximately 25 per cent in yesterday's sales of eggs and poultry. The Retail Grocers' Ass'n. had similar figures, from its independent members.

But all concerned—the grocers, restaurant owners, poultry and egg dealers—were unable to understand the reasoning which called for bannong eggs and poultry each Thursday.

Meatless Tuesdays they agreed probably would help in the food conservation program.

Pepper's Hub Mother Denies Borin Triangle

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, THURS., OCT. 9, 1942

Pretty Pepper Donna, 19-year-old Winthrop typist and beauty contest winner, who vanished after her silken pretties and other wardrobe effects were found by Mrs. Claire Borin in the Chicago apartment of her wealthy mate, Nathan, was being sought anxiously today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Shore, Auburn st., West End. Pepper, who was Janet Shore before she gave a cold but lush shoulder to typing and sought fame along the beauty-route, he coming a runnerup in the Miss America contest, may be on the way to Boston now, her mother indicated.

"We heard from her a couple of weeks ago," said Mrs. Shore, and she said she was coming to see us soon. We are trying to contact her now. I am worried about her. But there was never anything of a romantic nature between Janet and Mr. Borin in Atlantic City and he is a very nice man. Why, he must be 50 years old.

"If he let Janet use his apartment I am sure it was all right and he did it because she found it difficult to find a place to stay."

In Chicago, meanwhile, Mrs. Borin, who had appeared at her millionaire husband's apartment manumitted, found the lock changed—but solved that difficulty with the help of the building's staff—was declaring Pepper's tenancy to be a stroke of luck.

"I have plenty of evidence now to get the divorce I've wanted," she exulted.

Mrs. Borin has been trying to divorce Borin for 10 years.

GETS BUSY ON DIVORCE

Mrs. Borin wasn't thinking solely about Pepper Donna as she directed her attorney, Martin McNelly, to get busy on a new divorce petition. McNelly disclosed that in addition to Pepper, the Chicago woman might name Patricia Schmidt, 22-year-old night club dancer, who is on trial in Havana for the murder of John Lester Mee, the Chicagoan who died on his yacht after Patricia allegedly shot him.

Of Patricia, Mrs. Borin said:

"I have plenty now to get my divorce. I don't want to involve Miss Schmidt in any more trouble if I can help it but I think I can prove my husband bought clothes for her."

Patricia, Mrs. Borin charged, was no stranger to Borin's apartment before Pepper Donna moved in.

Patricia will be brought into Havana court again Tuesday to tell her story of the shooting twice more—once for the prosecutor and once for her counsel. The prosecutor has asked for a 30-year sentence.

CASH FOR PARENTS

The prosecutor, Jose Manuel Fuentes Carretero, also asked the court to assess her $500, to be paid to Mee's family as indemnity.

In her testimony, Miss Schmidt acknowledged that she had been intimate with Mee aboard his

Royal Bridal Gown Secret Stirs Strife

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Growing demands in the London press for an official disclosure of what Princess Elizabeth's wedding gown will look like got an icy reception today from the court.

"The Princess would be very disappointed if enough became known so that the gown could be duplicated before she has an opportunity to wear it," said a spokesman at Buckingham Palace.

But official circles declined to put any stock in a Daily Mirror report that the Princess would discard the gown and have a new one created if the secret leaked out before she weds Lt. Philip Mountbatten on Nov. 20.

The Mirror said the gown was being made up from "cream or white silk satin and will contain 15 to 20 yards of material at three pounds ($12) to four pounds ($16) a yard."

The palace wouldn't say yes or no or even "maybe" to that one. A well-informed source said "it's only a guess," but added that "probably some people might hit on a fairly accurate guess."

Several chosen newsmen already have seen the dress material—but only under a double oath not to tell the secret until the wedding day.

Girl, 6 Dies After Loss Of Legs, Arm by Train

BENNINGTON, Vt., Oct. 9—Gloria Foisy, 6, fighting gamely to overcome shock and the loss of blood she suffered in losing both legs and her right arm under the wheels of a locomotive, lost her courageous battle today in a white-walled room of Putnam Memorial Hospital.

Conscious until a short time before her death, the little girl "was game to the end," according to Dr. F. J. Bean, hospital superintendent. He said she was given narcotics to ease the pain in her mangled frame.

It was Gloria's eagerness to join a chum on the way to the afternoon session at the Sacred Heart School that resulted in the fatal accident.

She spotted the chum while strolling alone a walk between the highway and a freight yard where a switching engine was hauling cars to a siding. Unmindful of the locomotive, Gloria ran toward her friend and caught her clothing in an engine wheel.

With the co-operation of the Hearst newspapers in Boston, religious, fraternal, civic and veteran organization leaders have planned the memorial that will be highlighted by a solemn procession from South Armory in Irvington st., Back Bay, to Boston Arena, in time for start of services at 3 p. m.

2 Ex-GIs Held In Atomic Thefts

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 9 (AP)—Federal agents who have been probing thefts of confidential matter from the Los Alamos atomic project nabbed two more suspects yesterday—and at the same time revealed the investigation also has covered a highly secret weapons project outside Albuquerque.

Complaints filed immediately after the simultaneous arrests 85 miles apart in New Mexico accused George Wellington Thompson, 38, formerly of Greenwood, Miss., of taking classified photographs from both the Army's Sandia base here and the atom laboratory and Ernest Lawrence Paporello, 28, formerly of Union City, N. J., of stealing half a dozen Los Alamos pictures.

The two were identified by the FBI as former Army photographers at Los Alamos, where the first atom bomb was assembled. After his discharge, Thompson was a civil service employee for a time at Sandia.

Auto Injuries Prove Fatal to Lynn Man, 76

Injuries suffered when he was struck by an auto in La Grange sq., Lynn, proved fatal early today for Patrick McCarriston, 76, of South Common st., Lynn.

He died at Lynn Hospital of a broken leg and head injuries six hours after being run over by the car. Surviving is a son, John, of the same address.

Mayor Charles F. Sullivan and other Worcester city officials, were at the platform to hail the arrival of the Freedom Train and, after their inspection, its treasures were thrown open to the public view for the rest of the day.

Busloads of school children from all parts of central Massachusetts converged on Worcester throughout the day and a steady stream of sightseers passed through the Train.

LYNN PLANS WELCOME

Lynn will hail the arrival of the Train tonight with a huge street parade, which will start in East Lynn, pass through downtown streets, circle Lynn Common and disband in front of Lynn Armory.

At conclusion of the parade, Lynn Red Men in full regalia will present a patriotic pageant, highlighting a series of rallies and patriotic observances of Rededication which began in the city last Saturday.

The Train will be welcomed officially to Lynn at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow by Mayor Albert Cole, City Council members and other civic leaders. The train will be open to the public there from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and at least 20,000 are expected to take advantage of the opportunity to view its historical treasures.

Principal observance in Boston today as the Train's arrival was awaited was a noonday rally of federal, state, county and city employees at Parkman Bandstand on Boston Common.

Gov. Bradford, Mayor Hynes and Federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford were among scheduled speakers.

Another Rededication Week observance will be held at tonight's meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club in the Copley Plaza Hotel.

There Vera M. Deane, research director for the Foreign Policy Ass'n. and Judge Jennie Laitman Barron will discuss the proper appreciation of our civic rights.

High point of the week will be a huge four-pronged patriotic procession Sunday on the Boston Common parade grounds in which more than 100,000 members will be represented in over 250 marching units of the city's myriad civic, social, fraternal and veteran organizations. Chief marshal of the procession is Brig. Gen. William H. Harrison, adjutant-general of the State National Guard.

Airline Probing Freak Plane Flip

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 9 (AP)—Half a hundred persons called themselves lucky today as experts probed the innards of an American Airlines flagship for a clue to the mysterious spin that flopped it upside down and shook up passengers and crew 8000 feet above the earth.

None of the 53 aboard was seriously injured.

Capt. Charles Sisto, pilot, said the plane on automatic pilot went into a steep climb. Before he righted it with manual control, it dived 5000 feet and flew upside down.

"People and pieces of baggage were flying through the air," said Clyde Miller, Oakland, Cal., Navy yard civilian employee. "The passengers were shouting and screaming. Children were crying. Only a few passengers had safety belts fastened."

Cabot Will Benefits Arts, Harvard

The Massachusetts General Hospital, Harvard College, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the Boston Symphony Orchestra were among six organizations named as ultimate beneficiaries of the will of Walter M. Cabot, Canton, filed for probate today in Dedham court.

Cabot, an 1894 graduate of Harvard and an ex-curator at the museum, established a $500,000 trust fund for his widow, Mrs. Katherine Cabot. On her death and on payment of $29,000 to her brother, Herbert M. Nixon, the fund will be divided into four equal shares.

Three shares will go to the hospital, the college and the museum. The fourth share will be divided equally among the orchestra, the National Recreation Ass'n and the National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

In addition to the trust fund, the widow will receive all Cabot's real estate in Canton, West Medway, Sherborn and Palm Beach, Fla., and the residue of his estate. The latter, on her death, will also be divided among the six organizations.

Requests totaling $210,000, made in amounts from $1000 to $30,000, were set aside for relatives and friends. The will, drawn Feb. 4, 1934, names as executors ex-Superior Court Judge Charles C. Cabot and Henry B. Cabot.

Kelly Drops Nomination Fraud Plea

City Council President John B. Kelly, who recently charged three candidates opposing his re-election from Ward 15, Dorchester, with having fraudulent signatures on their nomination papers, withdrew the charges without explanation this morning in a last-minute gesture.

Kelly, who had filed his charges in writing, appeared before the election commission as it convened to conduct a hearing on his accusations at 9:30. He departed after announcing his change of heart but without elaborating on it, leaving the commission with no hearing to conduct and somewhat irritated over loss of time.

A commission spokesman emphasized its time was valuable because it has a number of hearings it must hold in connection with charges and counter charges by other candidates, with allegedly fraudulent nomination signatures at issue.

Kelly had directed his charges at Henry Russell Carey, Robert J. Ramsey and Thomas H. Regan. None was on hand when the election commission met to give the matter an airing.

Globe Fliers in Shanghai After Bucking Gales

SHANGHAI, Oct. 9 (AP)—Two Americans on a round-the-world flight in light planes landed at Shanghai's Lungwa airfield today after covering the 500-mile stretch from Amoy in less than eight hours. George Truman of Los Angeles and Clifford V. Evans of Washington, D. C., bucked 40-mile-an-hour headwinds all the way.

They said that when they left Hongkong last Sunday they were told they would face headwinds of no more than 20 miles an hour. A few hours later their small plane ran into 80-mile headwinds which forced them to land at Amoy.

Youth, Girl Held in $3.35 Rockland 'Hunger' Robbery

Mary L. Rose, 18, Spencer st., Dorchester, and William Simpson, 22, Bates ave., West Quincy, were charged with armed robbery and larceny of a car by Rockland police today in a $3.35 "hunger" holdup of Robert Frazier, 19, Keith st., Weymouth Landing taxi driver, early yesterday.

William Simpson

A second man, taken into custody with them, was absolved by Simpson of any connection with the stickup, officers said.

He was being held for questioning. Police Chief Adolph Johnson of Rockland and State Trooper Grant went to Quincy police headquarters to take the Dorchester girl and Simpson to Abington court.

They were arrested after leaving a West Quincy tavern yesterday with the second man, whom they met in a Dover st. tavern after taking a bus to Boston from Brockton a few hours after the holdup.

The taxi driver was robbed in Rockland by a male passenger he had picked up with a girl at Weymouth. The man held a knife at his throat, took the $3.35, threw Frazier out and escaped in the cab with the girl.

Quincy police said Simpson had a knife with a three-and-one-half-inch blade which he admitted was the holdup weapon. Frazier had saved $75 by slipping it into a shirt pocket when his fares began to act suspiciously.

N. E. Search Launched For Girl, 15, Boy Friend

A New England-wide search was on today for attractive Gwendlyn Barnes, a 15-year-old Mansfield Junior High School student, who disappeared two days ago and is believed to be in the company of an Attleboro youth with whom she has been keeping company and who is also missing.

The search was started after Ralph Barnes, father of the young girl, notified police that his blonde-haired, blue-eyed daughter failed to return from classes last Tuesday. When last seen, Barnes said, she was in the company of James Amesbury, 16, an Attleboro dairy worker, who had met her after classes in his father's car.

First inkling that the couple might be together was gathered from the report of both parents to police that their children had disappeared at approximately the same time. A description of the car, a 1941 coupe, was sent to all New England police departments.

Amesbury's parents reported his disappearance to state police, but said they knew nothing of his friendship with the Barnes girl.

Cleric Defends Reich GIs' Morals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—

Dr. W. O. H. Garman of the American Council of Christian Churches takes a brighter view of moral conditions among American soldiers in Europe than Dr. Harold J. Ockenga of Boston, another of a group of churchmen who toured occupation zones at Army invitation during the summer.

Dr. Ockenga, reporting his observations to the Secretary of War several weeks ago, complained of conditions in some clubs operated by the men themselves.

Dr. Garman, in a report released by the Army, reported no such observations. He said:

"Some have a distorted idea that all the German girl companions of our GIs are immoral. This is not so."

SOS Spurs Hunt For 3 in Pacific

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 9 (AP)—A faint radio distress signal sputtering out of the lonely wastes of the Pacific kept alive hope today that three U. S. seamen yet would be found safe on four lost minesweepers.

The radio for help gave the call letters of the tug Edward M. Grimm, which cut them adrift 16 days ago while it put into Palmyra, 1000 miles south of here, for fuel.

The Hawaiian sea frontier said there was no doubt but that the signal came from a radioman operating an emergency set aboard one of the minesweepers, which have no power. The pilot of a search plane heard the signal but it was too weak for him to obtain a bearing.

Typhoon Batters Iwo Jima, Honkong

GUAM, Oct. 9 (AP)—A tropical typhoon, accompanied by 160-mile winds, battered Iwo Jima today, causing severe damage to American installations and an unknown number of casualties.

The typhoon blotted out communications with the small Army caretaker garrison on the famous island battleground of World War II.

Reports received by Chinese shipping firms in Hongkong said a rushing wall of water struck Swatow, China, yesterday, bringing death and injuries to hundreds and demolishing hundreds of homes.

$2,000,000 HAIL DAMAGE

LEVELAND, Tex., Oct. 9 (AP)—Hail caused in less than an hour an estimated $2,000,000 damage to crops, buildings and residences in this area yesterday. No one was seriously injured, but several persons were hit.

Pope Fears Foes of Justice Must Be Curbed by Force

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 9 (AP)—Pope Pius told a sub-committee of the Armed Services committee of the U. S. House of Representatives yesterday that "law and order may at times have need of the strong arm of force."

"Some enemies of justice can be brought to term only by force," the Pontiff told the group headed by Rep. Short (R.) of Missouri. "But force should be held always in check by law and order and be exercised only in their defense. Nor is any man law unto himself."

"If that principle were everywhere accepted and acted on, there would be a greater sense of security among peoples."

The Pope told a group of touring American Legionnaires, headed by former Com. Paul Griffith, that "Your spirit does not seem belligerent, but your name

"You are veterans of such fields of battle, never to return to them, we hope (and now are organized as a force for peace."

3 SCOLDS JAILED

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9 (AP)—Three sisters, ranging from 23 to 36 years old, were given jail terms as common scolds after a neighbor played for a jury a record which he testified contained their scoldings. Helen Znosko, 36, and Betty, 26, of West Natrona, were given 13 to 23 months and Josephine, 23, drew three months. Francis Pastor testified the women hurled "vile and abusive" remarks at him after a disagreement over shrubbery in the Znosko yard. The record was made by his son, Francis, Jr., who had turned on the power and then stopped his ears with cotton.

Injured Athletes To Have Bills Paid

Boston public school students injured in athletic contests will have their medical bills paid out of a fund to be set up this fall, it was announced today following approval of the proposal by the school committee.

The funds will come from an all-star football game to be played after the regular season, between teams representing the public and parochial schools. One half of the proceeds will be used to set up the fund, and the half allotted the parochial schools will be turned over to the Archdiocese Cushing Charity Fund.

The committee also retained the age for admission to kindergarten at four years and six months.

Greek Reds Call For Armed Revolt

ATHENS, Oct. 9 (INS)—The Greek Communist party announced today the formation of a "mountain government," heightening fears of an intensified insurgent military campaign to sever Greek officials since July.

Following on the heels of the announcement of the anti-national Communist international organization, the Greek Communist also issued a communique calling on their members and supporters to back with armed force the guerrillas of Gen. Markos.

Rows Upon Rows of Delicious

APPLE PIE

APPLE PIES... ROWS UPON ROWS of them... still hissing, still bubbling, giving off wonderful spicy, sweet odors that would send any hungry person into pardonable ecstasies! I wish you could have seen them... that sight I have just seen down here in our big bakery!

• It was an event that happens every few hours. Those clever folks, our pie bakers, were at their posts in front of our big rotary ovens. At the proper split-second the doors flew open, and from the slowly turning oven-tables those superb, luscious pies were being deftly whisked over to the racks, there to be rushed to our waiting trucks and on to our cafeterias.

• Our apple pies once again are back to the peak of their famed perfection, I am glad to say. With the end of war shortages it is now possible to obtain the true and special spices Waldorf pies require. Also we have enough sugar, shortening, and other ingredients, all of which, together with one of the finest apple crops in years, once more will renew the apple pie reputation that Waldorf Cafeterias have justly earned over a period of almost forty years.

• You undoubtedly have heard it, over and over again... "If you want real apple pie, deliciously oven-fresh, then go into a Waldorf."

James J. Curry
President.

Legion to Offer Vet Housing Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—National Com. James F. O'Neil of the American Legion today had directed the Legion's national housing committee to draft immediately a program to provide rental housing for veterans "at rents they can afford."

O'Neil conferred with his committee for eight hours before boarding a plane for San Francisco, where he will take part in the tribute to America's returning war dead tomorrow.

O'Neil said there has been an increase in home building for those in the middle brackets but added:

"The plight of low income veterans is as bad or worse than ever. There is definitely going to be a Legion housing bill and it will be ready to be introduced the day Congress returns."

Bullitt Urges U. S.

Save China From Reds

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to Russia and France, today proposed a three-year, $1,350,000,000 program of American aid to the Chinese government to prevent Russia "from taking over China."

Writing in Life Magazine, Bullitt also suggested that Gen. MacArthur be given the added duties of organizing with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek "a joint plan to prevent subjugation of China by the Soviet Union."

Three Jews Given 7-Year Terms in Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Oct. 9 (AP)—A Jerusalem military court today sentenced three Jewish men, including two brothers, to serve seven years in prison for printing leaflets issued by the Jewish underground organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi.

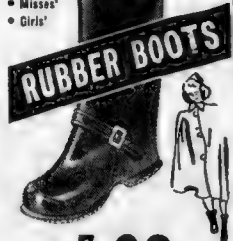

A fourth defendant, father of the two brothers, was acquitted.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1947, King Features Synd., Inc.

WHEN A LOAN is made to an individual, a corporation, or a nation, the lender is entitled to some form of collateral against the possibility that the borrower will default. The worth of an individual is more easily determined than the worth of a nation, because most nations are a complex of governments, private citizens and natural resources worked and prospective.

Certain countries, like Soviet Russia, have simplified their economy by the establishment of a state monopoly of wealth. Other nations, like Great Britain, make a distinction between the resources of the government and the possessions of private citizens. Whereas the government may be poor, individual citizens may be fabulously rich.

On July 21, 1941, the British government negotiated a loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corp. in the sum of $425,000,000, putting up as collateral securities with an approximate value of $320,000,000; the capital stock of British-owned American insurance companies, with an estimated value of $180,000,000, as pledged with the RFC.

As of June 30, 1947, the RFC had received payments aggregating $235,826,255, of which $195,517,446 was applied as principal, $47,510,143 as interest and $12,798,666 held in reserve accounts.

In this particular instance, the British used as collateral the private property of some of its citizens. I am told that these assets have so increased in value that they can be used for collateral for an even greater amount.

WHAT ARE the foreign assets in the United States which might be used as collateral?

The British own some of the largest manufacturing companies in the United States, including Lever Brothers, headed by Charles Luckman who operates the propaganda machine for the export, for free, of American food to Europe beyond the known surplus as indicated by Department of Agriculture data.

There are other American companies, the capital stock of which is British-owned. These can be used as collateral for loans, first on the basis of the formula laid down by Jesse Jones in the 1941 loan, and secondly on the basis of the principles of nationalization which the present Socialist government in England has been employing.

IT IS ESTIMATED that the British own $660,000,000 of stocks and bonds in this country, and about $1,000,000,000 in real estate, trust funds and other assets.

In a word, a very rough guess from known figures would put British-owned assets held in America between $3,000,000,000 and $5,000,000,000.

Canadian assets in the United States are put at $2,350,000,000, but that figure does not indicate what British assets are in Canada. Dutch assets in the United States have been put at $500,000,000, but it would be difficult to estimate the value of British assets in the Dutch colonies of Asia, particularly in oil, tin, rubber, spices and other commodities.

ALTOGETHER it has been variously estimated that foreign countries and nationals have from $9,000,000,000 to $15,000,000,000 of assets within the United States all of which can be used as collateral for loans and for the commodities which the Europeans require. Actually, these governments are not as poor as they pretend to be.

The economy of the world ought not to be ruined by the charity of the State Department by subsidizing non-productivity.

Cyprus Bound

Jewish refugees are escorted from the British-seized Hagana ship Medina Yehudit to the S.S. Empire Comfort at Haifa for deportation to Cyprus. They were among the 4500 immigrants aboard two ships seized off Palestine. A British soldier, carrying a small child, can be seen.

THE SAME OLD COMINTERN

WHILE SIXTEEN NATIONS of Western Europe are still "discussing" the formation of an economic bloc under the Marshall Plan—in the expectation of American financial support—Soviet Russia has completed its own bloc in the East.

And not only has Russia thus cemented its military and economic hegemony over its European satellites—also, through the powerful Communist parties in France and Italy, in command of the general federations of labor in both instances, it has plainly marked those two countries for early annexations.

Furthermore, because of the Italian settlement—compelling the withdrawal of our armed forces from that Mediterranean area—and the formidable positions of the Red army in Austria and Germany, the Kremlin now actually holds more than half of the continent in military thrall, almost up to the North Sea, and has plainly no intention of an evacuation.

Dr. Karl Gruber, the Austrian foreign minister, is entirely right in predicting that Soviet Russia will veto either an Austrian or a German peace treaty at the November conference of foreign ministers in London, and that Vienna must prepare itself for a Russian coup d'état in Austria similar to the murderous Red "putsches" in Hungary and the Balkans.

THE RUSSIAN DEVICE for checkmating the Western European nations—and the United States—was simply the announced re-establishment of the Comintern, which in point of fact was never dissolved.

What really had happened was that—in dire need of Allied aid in the war—Stalin merely pretended that the Comintern had been put away.

Its "national" leaders were simply assigned to communize their own countries from within.

In this way, Soviet Russia disposed the trained Comintern members abroad as revolutionary political field marshals, and the supposedly defunct Comintern uninterruptedly continued and expanded its activities, with all of its "former" members placed in key positions in different regions.

Of the fourteen leaders of the Comintern who solemnly signed the declaration of dissolution on May 22, 1943, the majority are now acting either as national leaders or as leaders of the Communist Party in various countries.

George Dimitrov, once general secretary of the Comintern, is the prime minister of Bulgaria.

Klement Gottwald is the prime minister of Czechoslovakia, obedient to Moscow.

Mathias Rakosi is vice-prime minister of Hungary and secretary-general of the Hungarian Communist Party.

William Pieck is leader of the Communist Party in Germany; Palmiero Togliatti, alias Ercoli, leads the Italian Communist Party, and Marshal Tito is the dictator of Yugoslavia.

Boleslaw Bierut, for 15 years active in underground work against his own country, is president of Poland.

Johann Kopenic, who during the war years fought in a Spanish international Communist battalion, is one of the Communist leaders in Austria.

And besides this array of revolutionary leaders in Europe, the leaders of the Communist movements in the Far East were Moscow-trained.

NOT ONE of the former Comintern members was recalled to re-establish it in its new guise; the Red political field marshals remain at their posts.

Those who met in Poland to adopt the new declarations were a new group. Among them were Ana Pauker, the "Passonaria" of Romania, and Jacques Duclos of France, whose Moscow-inspired diatribe against the "reformed" American Communist Party drove Earl Browder out of its leadership, reinstated William Z. Foster—also once a Comintern member, and caused an overnight return to the party line of class warfare and the overthrow of civilized governments.

So to the old Comintern has been added a new facade in the name of which ideological warfare has been declared upon American "imperialism."

This leaves Soviet Russia and its political field marshals—the "old" Comintern—technically "neutral" while their Communist parties and lackey governments throughout the world carry out the orders of the "new" Comintern.

The strategy of the Kremlin never varies in its duplicity.

Love me, sweet, with all thou art,

ADDITIONAL USES of beer continue to be reported. Recently beer was widely praised as a hair rinse for females. Now an English farmer, who grew a prize cucumber two feet long, stated he accounted for his achievement from the fact he had "fed the cucumber with drainings from beer barrels."

PASSING BY: Carey Wilson, Veteran Hollywood genius. Has been with the same film company.

MGM, for 26 years. Said to be the film colony's greatest diplomat. Instead of saying "no" he always says "well, yes but on the other hand." Never refers to a script as "lousy," but says gently to the scenarist: "I'm afraid this isn't up to your usual standard." . . . Jean Noble, entertainer and song writer, has just written a ditty titled "Today Is Your Birthday," designed to be substituted for "Happy Birthday To You." And also a song called "The Ecstasy of Your Kiss" intended for the high school co-ed trade.

TELEPHONES: Many people are frightened by telephone calls made by anonymous callers. Seem some inventive genius could originate a system by which a person receiving a phone call could know exactly where it is coming from. It is also about time the visual telephone was put into operation in this country. Nearly 10 years ago there were visual telephones in Europe enabling the persons phoning to see each other.

BREAKFAST: "As for that New England breakfast you mentioned. Bah! A barbaric conglomeration of food if you ask me. New England food is filling but not enjoyable," writes a Marylander. "Give me a Southern breakfast such as strawberries and cream, soup, bread or hominy, ham and eggs, souffles and plantation cane syrup, hot biscuits or blueberry muffins or corn popovers and quava preserves. Yum! Yum! Imagine those New Englanders eating codfish cakes for breakfast. Ugh!"

quava preserves. Yum! Yum! Imagine those New Englanders eating codfish cakes for breakfast. Ugh!"

HORSES & WOMEN: In feminine circles a female of five feet seven or over is rated a tall woman. Tall women constitute only one-ninth of the feminine population of the United States. The rest are medium sized or petite types. So why do tall women so completely dominate the style situation?

Tall women prefer long skirts. So all women must wear long skirts.

Other styles are made to suit tall women. And so what? The rest of the women have to wear four-inch heels to get the height necessary to be fashionable. The pocket-sized females just don't seem to know how to get their rights. They should organize a Cute Little Tricks Protective Ass'n and put up a battle against style domination by the lengthy females.

GRATUITY COUPONS: Some organizations give their traveling representatives "gratuity coupons." These coupons which have varying cash values, are used for tips at hotel employees. Person receiving the tip can get paid for it at the hotel cashier's office. A hotel maid recently took care of a room occupied by two insurance men for two days and a half. When they departed they left the girl a "gratuity coupon" for a tip. It called for the payment of 15 cents! The maid didn't cash the "gratuity coupon." She kept it and pasted it in her scrapbook.

NOT ACCEPTED: Jeune Ruen, Detroit, Mich., was suggested for the My Name Is A Poem Club. Also Peter Theder, Watertown, Wis. "Neither of these names rhyme," snapped M. N. I. A. P. C. President Hugh Blue. "We welcome only candidates whose names have the rhyming qualities of such members as Truly Dooley, Channing Manning, Fay Wray and Bridgett Pritchett."

SIDELIGHTS: In Williamsport, Pa., there once resided a man named Thomas Thomas Thomas. And lived on Thomas ave. . . . Lawyers are more likely to fall in love with their secretaries than men engaged in any other activity. That's what a secretary of long and varied experience claims.

GRAMMAR: A character in a magazine story I have been reading asks: "Whom did you hope to see?" No doubt the use of "whom" is grammatically correct, but I don't like the way it sounds. It gives a touch of "officetation" to the query. I prefer "who did you hope to see?"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—If the United States had not interfered in the first great war in Europe, the second war would not have occurred and the world would be that much better off today.

The trend of current events and barroom repartee between the official journalism of the Russian state and whomsoever the Russians can entice into argument here is toward a third war.

In this war, the United States and Russia would be the main adversaries, and thus, for the first time, after two practice blows imbued with false sentiments, the Western World would openly, and in our own name and in our own cause, engage the Eastern.

TWICE THE UNITED STATES has fought for the survival of primary European contestants to whom we were unreasonably partial. To be sure, Pershing preserved the nationality of his regiments, but we sided into the first war as understudies of the veteran British and French soldiers and with a distinct understanding that our mission was to save Britain and France from a whipping and some nameless punishment.

Again, in the second war we not only furnished the tools to the great reduction of our wealth, but went belligerent and provided the fighting punch that certainly settled the war.

If it had been true that the British were fighting our war, the long spell of indecision while they were being and we were getting up our nerve would have been a disgrace to us.

It wasn't true, of course, but we have learned only recently that the Nazis had good reason to punish us if we had confined our participation to non-belligerent help and heckling.

It now turns out that our Roosevelt sent an ambassador to Germany in 1933 whose whole purpose was to organize Britain, France and our country against Germany for the sake of Russia.

Russia was Germany's natural enemy and day by day, now, we better understand why the Germans hated and feared the Bolsheviks.

THE INTENTIONS of the Kaiser, revealed after the first war, were predatory, inconsiderate and brutal, but practical and not unusual. So were the intentions of Britain, France and Russia.

The Germans would have absorbed Holland, Belgium and a little more of France. They would have left the British off with some humiliation and the loss of some property in Africa.

The British, being nimble, versatile and pitiless, would have adjusted themselves spiritually in a few years.

The treatment of France here deserves only superficial consideration. She has been slovenly inefficient, ill-tempered and her own worst enemy, and, in 1914, she started a career as a political and economic parasite. This is now her principal vocation.

In any case, the Germans of the Kaiser would not have created the Bolshevik monster of Lenin and Trotsky had we attended to our own business in that war.

It was only by the desperate connivance of the Germans in the days of the Kaiser's decline that the Bolsheviks were enabled to take over Russia.

Our country, therefore, was responsible for the creation of the power which now faults us to fight. Even if the creation of this power were something to be proud of, we would have forfeited all credit because our assistance to the Bolsheviks was unintentional and unforeseen.

We had made matters desperate for the Germans, who therefore helped the Communists, who then obligingly dissolved the Eastern front, permitting the Germans to shift so many divisions to the West but not enough to win.

Actually, we went so far as to fire off a few rifles at the Russians at Archangel and in Siberia. Thus we may be placarded in their postoffices and railroad stations as historic enemies of the revolution, wanted dead or alive.

THE BOLSHIEVIK REVOLUTION actually was a tremendous backflip into the Dark Ages. It was an insane massacre, continued for years. All the superior Russians who couldn't escape to become cab-starters, maid servants and gigolos in Paris, London and New York were slaughtered.

The British lumps who had been groping their way toward civilization in the new freedom granted by the Czars were now caught up by new masters, more savage than any that their ancestors had known.

The Russian peasant and the dull, dumb, urban slob were organized to enslave themselves in a new and much worse thralldom. The Czars never thought of playing it down that work was an obligation of the person to the state.

"Frankly, I can't tell whether HE'S improving or I'M getting used to it!"

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9 (INS) — Certainly hope when Paul Henreid turns director at Eagle-Lion he'll direct a lot of action, and not just in the office.

It just doesn't work out. Either a good actor turns into a bad director or vice versa. Paul Henreid, by the way, has signed a three-picture deal with Eagle-Lion. In the first, "Hollywood Boulevard," he'll have Stephen Strimpert direct. In that one he parks his flowery, hand-kissing manners to become a murderer. In the second opus, "Carter in Manhattan," Paul takes over the direction, and this is the one I am hoping to Heaven he'll have the good sense not to try to act in too.

I LIKE so much the scenario Chandler Sprague has prepared for John Considine. It's called "The Super Chief," and it's the story of a lonely child on a train (the Super Chief, natch), who writes a telegram saying he hopes some man and woman will take him into their home, so he won't be so lonely. The porter throws the telegram out of the window, where it's found by a conductor who is actually a Christ-like character. In fact, he is played as a symbol.

Chandler discussed the idea today with Lee Lyles, because of bringing the Santa Fe train in to the story, and Lee is very enthused about it—in fact, it was Lee who told me about it. He believes it's important today to have this kind of motion picture.

JUNE HAVER was on the 20th last day today testing for "Sweet Sue," a technical musical, with Director Robert Sinclair and Producer Robert Fachelor making the scenes. She'll have time to make a movie on her home lot before she starts "Marjorie Miller" for Warners, and this probably will be it.

I know June is eager to work. She told me she felt work was the one thing in the world she wants to keep her mind off her troubles. June, on advice of her attorney, isn't discussing the Juneyesque "Sweet Sue" film, but when the times comes, she'll have plenty to say.

"DO YOU GET BETTER?" I asked handsomely Jim Dietz, her new leading man, who was wearing a naval uniform. Better, Jim and I were talking on the set of "Winter Meeting."

"No," answered Bette, "we part after deciding we are not for each other. You know," she laughed, "some day I am going to write an article on how the men in motion pictures have killed me. The New Yorker once called me the 'Alleen Duse' because I was always walking down an alley after losing my men."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 — Mr. Charles Finston, one of the latest to adorn our Washington press corps, came in the other day and asked if I had seen a piece in the papers about a mysterious Russian general named Chaparitz. I had heard from a hiding place in Paris to parts unknown because he feared Stalin's bloodhounds were after him.

I said I had long ago given up any attempt to keep tabs on all the Russians who feel Stalin means them no good; that's tough enough to keep track of those who are in favor with the Kremlin.

"They are always throwing in new pinch hitters I have never heard of," I wailed. "I had never even heard of this Yashinsky until he got himself about 20 billion rubles' worth of free publicity by blowing off his trap about warmongers."

"In fact, if you had come up to me a few weeks ago and said: 'Who is Yashinsky?' I would have probably guessed him to be a new Irishman at

We walked in the fake snow on the set of "Winter Meeting" and when a kid threw a snowball, Bretaigne Windust, the third stage director who makes me never doubt with Bette, told me it was made of chocolate.

ISN'T HE RESOURCEFUL? Bette said she was confused over Windust. She said he is so helpful and studies every scene, and is so persistent, working for a man who knows just what he is doing.

THEY TELL ME when Georgeette Windsor heard I said she was parting from her recent bridegroom, Harry Cushing, she let out a yell and put on an act that sounded like a Comanche Indian in full war cry.

Quoting Florabel Mulr in Variety: "Georgeette Windsor said she was plently burned at Louella Parsons for saying she and Cushing had parted, but she didn't say how burned she got when Harry let her know it was free-for-all in the Beverly Hills Hotel last week, when a doctor was called in to put her back together again."

Well, Georgeette, you shouldn't say you are divorcing unless you mean what you say.

Miss Windsor doesn't deny she and her groom of a few weeks have parted. She was at the H. D. Hoyer party without him.

Thank you, Florabel, for setting Miss Windsor straight.

WELL, RED SKELTON'S got a new leading lady—and she's Janet Blair. When Janet reported for "Let's Fall in Love," the last picture she'll do before leaving Columbia, she found that because Janet Carter, who was to be with her, had gone to Rome to make a picture, and for other reasons, "Let's Fall in Love" had been indefinitely postponed. So Janet was put into the Skelton picture, "The Fuller Brush Man."

Well, I'll say one thing for her—if she never laughs again, she'll get plenty of laughs now.

MY HEART IS sad today in the loss of my dear friend, Helen Gilmore, associate editor of Photoplay Magazine. She died in a hospital of diphtheria, which she had contracted while in Paris last year. Six months ago she was out here, so dynamic, so vivacious. She came to my house for tea and we had such a nice talk. She was such an understanding and marvelous person.

Her many friends in Hollywood.

NOTE DUNE. Now what about this lug Chaparitz? "Well," said Mr. Finston, "the papers said he had been hiding out in Paris after escaping from Russia but that he feared the Soviets had got a line on his whereabouts and were sending assassins to knock him off. So he made a very quick change of venue, according to the papers, and fled from Paris to parts unknown leaving a forwarding address."

I SAID THIS seemed a fairly reasonable thing to do, because there is no percentage in hanging around to wait for assassins, but why was any concern of Mr. Finston?

"Because," replied the latter, "I am wondering if there are two General Chaparitz or whether this is the same geezer I ran across while serving with the Polish forces."

I told Mr. Finston I had suspected him of practically everything else except being a Pole and he said he had just been loaned out to the Polish forces as a public relations officer.

"The business of this Chaparitz," used will grieve for Helen, and sympathy especially goes to her husband, Richard Florio, to whom she was so happily married, and to her editor, Fred Samuels.

SNAPS SHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random: Sterling Hayden, who has just been cast in "The Great Escape," is now in Hollywood.

Lawrence Tierney and Viv. Stokes, who had parted, had dinner together at L'Arignon and made up. The night before, Tierney waited one and a half hours at the Chantelair for Viv, who failed to appear.

Charlie Chaplin, Jr., and Toni Davis, California centennial girl and former queen of the U.C.L.A. campus, at the Seven Seas cafe. Young Charlie and the pretty blonde girl are quite a thing.

Philip Dorn's daughter, Femia, has arrived here after years of trying to get out of Holland. She has already applied for citizenship papers.

The taxi which Doris Day was riding in New York collided with a Fifth ave. bus. She was rushed to an emergency hospital and is still in bed at the Hotel Astor.

Ralph Bellamy, who was wanted for a picture at 20th, sent back word he couldn't make it because he can't leave Reno. He's there, you know, getting a divorce from Ethel Smith. He decided to get the divorce himself after she asked for half of his money.

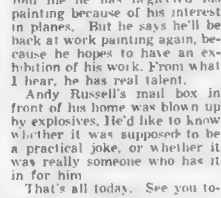

Tis whispered Walter Kane will have a confidential job with Howard Hughes.

Joan Fontaine has just received a nice honor. She has been invited by President Claude Welsh of Los Angeles University to be on the board of counselors of dramatic arts.

I was talking to William Grant Sherry, Bette Davis' husband, when I was visiting her on the set, and he told me he has neglected his painting because of his interest in planes. But he says he'll be back at work painting again, because he hopes to have an exhibition of his work. From what I hear, he has real talent.

Andy Russell's mail box in front of his home was blown up by explosives. He'd like to know whether it was supposed to be a practical joke, or whether it was really someone who has it in for him.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Broadway's Voice 25

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—Pretty Amazon Dorothy Foad, formerly of the Mickey Rooney films, is taking Broadway spectators a midget by whizzing around in a midget car.

John C. ... has switched Jagger, who is the biggest star to Katherine Lee, who is the chat lady in the show. Constance plays the role of a lad who has a lot of girls—and apparently he's beginning to like the part. "The Heiress," literally has convulsions when Wendy Hiller, with her British accent, says "Drop dead. Who needs you?" She even addresses the comment, "That's solid, Basil," to Mr. Rathbone (of course). Saved Sadiq El Mahdi, the Sudanese potentate, brought his white turban, ankle-length gray flannel shirt and three bodyguards to the Barbizon School of Modeling for a tour of inspection this week. He insisted he wanted to get a first hand view of some of America's beauties, and was bitterly disappointed when none of the ladies signified interest in the fabulous gifts he offered if they'd visit his country.

MINNIE MADDERN FISKE, the great American actress, had a very sharp tongue according to an article by Bennett Colt in the October issue of Good Housekeeping Magazine. He tells of the time an unpleasant playwright went to Mrs. Fiske's home and accused her of mislaying the script of a play she had submitted to her. "I never mislaid your script," she told him grandly, then she rang for the butler and said: "James, it's cold in here. Put three more manuscripts on the fire."

THAT WAS Dodge outfielder Pete Reiser ordering Yankee bean soup in Theodore's. The girl leader of a famous men's vocal group is showing off a ring her bandleader-boy gave her. Hap Arnold is closeting with a 20th Century Fox writer on the Coast, preparing the first draft of a biography to be based chiefly on the general's AAF career. "By the way," added Mr. Finston, "I wonder whatever became of Lillian?"

A GALAXY of deep thinkers, including Mr. Bill Corum, Mr. Bert Wheeler, Mr. Vincent X. Flaherty and Mr. Bob Adie, was gathered in a Manhattan restaurant after the final game of the World Series when a gentleman from Chicago rose from a near-by table and blurted toward us:

By clever tactics he finally made it, although he came close to falling into the trap. A couple of times, one of our men let who's close to painting the lady, asked him to sit down and have a drink.

"That," interrupted the gentleman, "is the only way to win and stay in the best of the Chicago School."

"What?" asked Mr. Adie. "Is there something wrong with the school house?"

"That," continued the gentleman, "is not had a letter, even my kid moving he got a hundred in algebra!"

The third annual Donaldson Award for outstanding achievement in the theater has been conferred upon Kern and Hammerstein's new version of "Show Boat," as the best musical production of the 1945-1946 season. The Broadway musical opened at a three-week engagement at the Opera House, beginning Oct. 27.

In addition, the award is bestowed upon Oscar Hammerstein 2d for the best book of a musical; on Mr. Hammerstein for the best lyrics, and posthumously upon Jerome Kern for the best music.

This is the third time that Mr. Hammerstein has won the Donaldson Award for the best book and lyrics of a musical.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 9 (INS) — United States newspaper publishers learned they face an almost certain rise in the $90 a ton price they now pay for Canadian newsprint.

The news was broken at a meeting of publishers and pulp and paper makers being conducted by a special House committee on newsprint.

An American paper manufacturer, George H. Mead, chairman of the board of the Mead Corp. of Dayton, Ohio, stated flatly:

"Today's price is not a fair price in my judgment—the publishers, of course, will have to pay more. There is no way to avoid it."

Canadian publishers refused to make an out-and-out prediction on price trends, pleading a fear of violating the anti-trust law.

However, Douglas W. Ambridge, president of the Abitibi Power & Paper Co., declared that the newsprint price is firmly tied to the U. S. economy and that should the present inflationary trend continue in the U. S., it will be immediately reflected in Canadian prices.

Ticket Demand Heavy For
True to form, "Oklahoma" is running along smoothly at the Colonial Theater on this, its third visit to Boston, with every indication of sell-out audiences throughout its five-week run here.

Tickets for the final week will be placed on sale at the Colonial Monday, and the management suggests an early date with the box office that morning to avoid the disappointment. It is impossible to extend the engagement because the Theater Guild's wonder musical is booked solidly for many months ahead.

Oklahoma at Colonial

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be liver kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 quarts a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it causes nagging backache, rheumatism, nervousness, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with aching and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's "Pills," a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 16 million of aches flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

BABY might object that the adults are stealing his thunder . . . but you and I won't. For the bibbed look of the Gibson era . . . with all its reminiscent guile and charm . . . has fashion importance this fall . . . especially in jewelry. Here Cora defines the Gibson girl bib in an elegant festoon gold chain necklace . . . dotted with gleaming pearls . . . and rounded to accentuate deep V-shaped necklines. For low décolletés, it is the newest jewelry cover-up . . . as new as the model's hairdo . . . but much more charming to wear.—R. M.

First Aid for the Lonely

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

SO MANY WOMEN write me that they are lonely and bored with life that it seems timely to tell them about one very easy way to make friends.

There are few women who are completely without hobbies. One who wrote me recently wanted to know how she could find friends who would like to spend an occasional evening crocheting together. Other women like to knit. Some make lace and others make rag rugs, quilts and similar articles.

Anyone who does anything of the sort can find friends with similar interests by becoming a member of some local chapter of the International Federation of Hand Arts. This organization is sponsored by the Woman's National Institute and the Exposition of Women's Arts and Industries, which annually stages in New York an exhibition of all types of women's interests.

While the latter has been active for approximately 25 years, the Federation of Hand Arts is a comparatively recent activity begun in 1941. So enthusiastic has been the response of women to the program of the group that chapters have been organized in many parts of the country and the first Federation chapter is now being formed in Norway.

Any woman interested in becoming a member of the Federation can either join an already existing chapter in her own community, or, if there is no local group, she can start one in her town if she can get about a dozen other women to form the nucleus of the new chapter. There are few requirements for membership in the Federation, the chief one being that the applicant for membership shall be a woman who does any kind of handwork in her home non-commercially, and that it be of a standard approved by Federation executives.

Monthly meetings are held of the different local chapters, and lively programs are carried on throughout the year. There are no dues for general membership.

Among the hand arts in which Federation members are now engaged, besides those mentioned earlier, are needlepoint, hand-painted fabrics; all sorts of sewing; fancy work; embroidery; bead work; lace making; and the like; ceramics and pottery; carving in wood, stone and soap; tatting, weaving, spinning; and hand-made jewelry. Skill of any kind of hand work makes any woman eligible.

Anybody interested in joining the Federation, no matter in what part of the country they live, may obtain full information about the program by writing to Mrs. Adele Scott, Woman's National Institute, 489 Lexington ave., New York City.

Little Fabric Used

By EILEEN-CALLAHAN

THE NEW styles contain a message for every woman: try something different this year, break away from the dull fashion pattern habit has imposed on you, look different, feel different and give yourself a lift.

Fashion analysts show that most women, when they shop for new clothes, are motivated by three drives: habit ("I always wore a large-brimmed hat"); boredom ("I don't care as long as it's my size"); and fear which is the result of an inferiority complex ("Oh, no, only a manikin or a movie star can wear those flare-back coats").

The range of fashion is wide enough this year to hold a new silhouette and therefore a new personality for every woman. Somewhere in its variations you will find just the right look for you. Search it out and when you find it don't be afraid to wear it. The beauty of this season's fashion is its individuality. The odd woman this winter will be the one who, forlorn and alone, clings to an outdated silhouette.

Pomade for Eye Lashes

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

GRANTED THE MOVIE QUEENS and the footlight dolls give cup-and-saucer largess to their orbs via mascara . . . but, actually, the illusion couldn't be achieved unless there was sufficient surrey-fringe to do it with. Mascara helps to make the lashes look longer than they are, even curls them in bewitching style . . . but what good is that if the lashes are few and far between?

When the fringe is sparse . . . the hedge is thin. And you know how a hedge that's not sprouted looks around the front lawn! Mascaraed lashes aren't especially good-looking if they are not thick and luxuriant. They look theatrical and unreal . . . frightening, if the truth be known. That's why so many movie and footlight gals use false ones . . . when their own are on the meager side.

It is just as easy to keep the lashes luxuriantly lovely . . . as it is to keep the hair on your head beautiful. There's a lifespan of about four to six weeks for eyelashes. They keep falling out periodically to make room for new ones to sprout. Haven't you found many a lash on your cheek? If the reproductive powers of the lashes was nil . . . pretty soon your eyes would be frameless and barren. Heaven forbid!

Nature provides the continued replacement of new lashes for old ones. Hence it is a simple matter to strengthen the root of the last in its incipient stage . . . so that when it pushes its way out . . . it will grow long, strong and out to THERE! All it takes is a nourishing pomade to help feed the under-surface rolls from whence the lashes sprang.

Such a pomade is a tried-and-true specialty of a noted beauty house. It is good for the eyelids, too, since it keeps that too-often prune-like-wrinkled skin soft and supple and resilient. But, primarily, it aids in the growth of lashes. It is specific for that. You'll find after using this rich, amber-colored pomade that the lashes which emerge are silkier and yes, even longer. There will be more of them. They will be thicker and lovelier.

Just massage gently a little of this pomade along the lash-ledge of the eyes . . . upper and lower lid . . . every morning and night.

For the name of this eyelash pomade, to help nourish and encourage longer, lovelier growth, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBERTY 4-6611 daily except Sunday, or write me, care of the Boston American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

THE BETTER to see you with . . . Rene Ray, young English stage and screen actress, seems to say through her orbs. Appearing currently in "An Inspector Calls" . . . this sweet-faced beauty won't have to answer . . . for her eyes will tell what the inspector wants to know.

Apples Offer Wide Variety In Support of Fall Menus

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

APPLES ARE almost as much a part of the American way of life as the Stars and Stripes. In fact, the all-time winner for years in the American dessert poll has been none other than "apple pie."

Actually, there are over 6700 varieties of apples in the United States, but the housewife needs only a few to take advantage of the best type for her purpose. Some apples are better for baking, some for "as is" munching, and others for sauce or pies.

Right now you'll find Jonathans, crisp, juicy and tart; fine for salads, pies, sauce and baking; McIntosh, red and excellent for "as is" eating or in salads, pies, sauce and baking; Wealthy, suitable for all purposes; and Delicious, wonderful for eating out of hand.

DUTCH APPLE CAKE

1½ cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt 1 tsp. sugar
½ cup shortening 1 egg yolk
½ cups sliced apples
Mix and stir dry ingredients. Work in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until shortening is well mixed with flour. Stir in egg yolk mixed with milk. Line 8-inch square pan with this mixture and cover with apples. Cover apples with following mixture:

¾ cup sugar 1½ tbsp. flour
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
½ tsp. salt

Mix ingredients well and spread over apples. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) 1 hour. Serve hot with cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings. Cream Apple is a new version of apple pie. Tart apple slices, lightly spiced with nutmeg, are barred with flaky pastry, then topped with a creamy sweet syrup and baked to just-right tenderness. Evaporated milk, just as it pours from the can, is boiled with the sugar to make the creamy-rich, caramel syrup which blends beautifully with the apples in the baking.

CREAM APPLE PIE

1 qt. sliced apples.
Nutmeg.
1 cup evaporated milk.
1½ cups sugar. Pastry.
Turn apples into pie pan lined with pastry. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Place strips of pastry across pie to form crossbars. Blend milk and sugar and boil to a thick syrup, about 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Pour syrup over pie. Bake in a hot oven (425 deg. F.) 10 minutes, then in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) until apples are tender, about 50 minutes longer. Makes one pie.

APPLE CRISPY

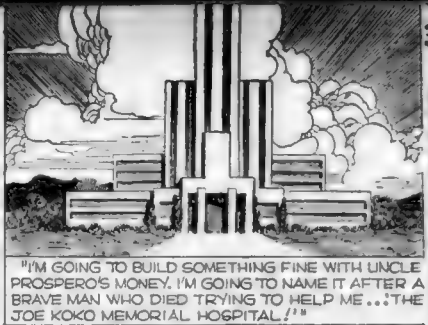

6 cups corn flakes
½ cup melted butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
4 cups sliced apples
1 tsp. cinnamon
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
Roll corn flakes into fine crumbs. Combine melted butter with ¼ cup of the sugar and mix with the crumbs. Reserve 1-3 of this mixture and press the remainder evenly over bottom and sides of 9-inch plate. Fill pastry shell with apples, sprinkle remaining crumbs on top. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 30 minutes, then reduce heat to slow (300 deg. F.) and bake 1 hour longer, until apples are tender. Serve hot with cream. Makes 6 servings.

yacht Satira, named for her, after he promised to marry her. She said she did not know until six weeks after she went aboard the yacht in January that Mee already was married.

in New England at the highest level in history, they protested a curb on sales.

Most of them predicted that within a week the accumulation would be so great that there would be insufficient freezers to handle the stock of poultry.

DEALERS CRITICAL

The program, insular as eggs and poultry were concerned, was branded as "ridiculous" by egg and poultry dealers in a bitter telegram to Charles Luckman, chairman of the citizens food committee. Greater consumption rather than less was a saner solution, they declared.

Dealers scored the government for holding 5,333,000 cases of eggs in storage and still continuing to buy up eggs at the high market prices. They stated that there were three times as many eggs in storage now as at the same time in 1943.

The telegram, signed by A. W. Hapgood, chairman of the Special Egg and Poultry Committee, said that asking consumers to save eggs when warehouses are bulging with them is ridiculous.

raised the gun, and I fired," she said. "I don't know where or how it fired."

Before that happened, the danger testified, there was a violent quarrel.

"He hit me over the head, knocked me to the deck and kicked me. He hurt me. He ran up the ladder—almost flew up—then came right back down again. He told me to take my clothes and get off the boat."

"He said, 'I have changed my mind. I am going to kill you. You know too much about me.' He started toward me. He reached for something, repeating he was going to kill me. I looked around and spied the pistol. I picked up the gun."

The shooting followed and Mee died five days later.

Gustavo Reno, the private prosecutor retained to represent Dr. ester E. Mee of Wilmette, Ill., father of the slain man, will take over examination of Miss Schmidt Tuesday.

Reno accused the U. S. Embassy here yesterday of "taking sides" in the case by refusing the prosecution a copy of a medical record showing the treatment of the young Mee in a U. S. naval hospital. Mee was a naval officer during the war.

Charles Albert Hutchinson, first secretary of the embassy who sat as an observer at yesterday's trial opening, issued a statement asserting that the sealed medical document had been landed to the Cuban Foreign Office for use by the court "to assist justice."

The Embassy, in a letter, recommended that the prosecution and defense both be shown the record, Hutchinson said. He added that the document now is in the hands of the court and the embassy "has no right or desire to interfere" in the administration of Cuban justice.

Hutchinson said he had recommended that the contents of the document not be made public, since "naval medical records normally are confidential."

Patricia, although unhappy about the delay in the trial, was heartened by the arrival of several American friends who flew here to help her.

They included Sharon Lynn, Patricia's blonde roommate in Chicago; Ross Miller, owner of the Chicago night club where Patricia once danced.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, THURS., OCT. 9, 1947

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—DID THE YANKEES invent a new way to celebrate victory at the Biltmore party? ... Did Monsignor McCaffrey's blast against Leo Durocher in Boston last Saturday influence that oil company to cancel his contract to appear on "We the People" Tuesday night? ... Why did Branch Rickey refuse to shake hands with Col. L. S. (Left Swing) MacPhail at the Stadium Monday afternoon when the Colonel always spoke so well of him? ... Does anyone want to shake the hand that picked the Yanks in seven games or do you prefer a breaded veal chop autographed by Broadway Sam? ... Who spread the wild report that Frank Shea was killed in an automobile accident on the Merritt Parkway at the very moment when the Yankees were enjoying himself most at the Victory celebration? ... Did Dr. Jules Gordon, the Yankees' official physician, enjoy that lecture on surgery Spud Chandler gave him Monday night?

WHY DID EVERY AMATEUR poet in Brooklyn have to choose "Casey at the Bat" as the model for the limping-metered near-classics on the Series' feats of Hugh, of that famous baseball clan? ... Will the Yankees take Aaron Robinson off the block, now that he has proved his worth after half a season in the doghouse? ... And what Yankee teammate tipped off the pitchers around the circuit earlier in the season about Aaron's weaknesses at bat? ... Now that Bobby Brown has proved himself the pinch hitter of the century, will the Yankees break him in as a first baseman so as to be prepared when George McQuinn, nearing the end of the trail, calls it a career?

Will Notre Dame Consider Bowl Bid?

WILL JOE DIMAGGIO'S high living expenses force him to take one of the radio contracts being dangled in front of his nose? ... Did Bucky Harris have Del Webb, one of his bosses, who is an ex-pitcher, warming up in the late stages of the final game? ... Will Yogi Berra get that $10,000 contract he's going to demand for next season? ... Will Polo Grounds fans forgive Mel Ott's boys for standing up in a body for Brooklyn during every "lucky seventh" inning of the Series?

IS NOTRE DAME preparing to abandon its policy of not playing post-season games and consider a bid to one of the Bowls? ... Will Branch Rickey ever get around to replying to the Kansas City Monarchs' owners' letter, requesting some remuneration for Jackie Robinson who, although not under contract to the Monarchs, had a verbal agreement with the club when he signed a Dodger contract? ... Now that the series is over, just how many tickets did Happy Chandler get for the horde of politicians who occupied seats which should have gone to the real fans? ... With the Commissioner's office getting such a huge share of the World Series receipts, why was the $65,000 secured for television rights turned over to his treasury instead of allocated to the Indigent Ball Players' Fund? ... And doesn't Col. Ott's Gottlieb, the Commissioner's aide-de-camp, rate promotion at least to the rank of Brigadier General for his valiant work in rounding up autograph fans for Happy during the series?

What Was the Matter With Rojek and King

ARE THE DODGERS negotiating for the purchase of the Steeplechase Park property at Coney Island as a site for a new ball park, by the sea waves? ... Did Frankie Sukwach quit the football Yankees because of a trick knee, as the management announced at the time, or because he didn't want to play second fiddle, as is indicated by the fact that he has signed up with the Baltimore Colts? ... Has anyone asked dear old Alvin Paris what the morning line is on next Sunday's Giants-Redskins game in Washington? ... What did Burt Shotton have against Stan Rojek and Clyde King, the only two players on the club who didn't get their varsity letter in the series?

DOES THE SELECTION of Chickie Bogad as match-maker for the 20th Century S. C. mean that Nat Rogers is out permanently? ... Will Bruno Betzel, manager of the Jersey City Giants, take a coaching berth with either Joe McCarthy of the Red Sox or Billy Meyer of the Pirates, two old cronies of his from the American Association, or return to the Association as manager of the Giants' Minneapolis farm, with Burgess Whitehead succeeding him in Jaycees? ... Didn't Nelson Dunstan, turf columnist, have good reason to feel proud when he forwarded to the committee Warren Wright's check for $30,000, the Runyon Fund's share of the $100,000 purse won by Armed in the match race with Assault, which brings the total Nelson has collected on the turf for the Fund up to $72,594.54?

'Lippy' Gives Impression He'll Pilot Dodgers in '48

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Leo Durocher flew back to the West Coast today leaving behind the impression that he was in the good graces of his boss, Branch Rickey, and that his chances of regaining his old job as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers were better than fair.

Boarding a plane at LaGuardia airport for Los Angeles last night, Durocher, whose season-long suspension ended with the last put-out of the World Series, was his old wise-cracking, loquacious self, jovial and smiling as he and Laraine Day, his film actress wife, waited for the take-off. Durocher revealed that he had a three and a half hour conference with the Dodger president and was "very happy with the result."

"Obviously, I can't tell you what went on, and any statement will have to come from Mr. Rickey," Durocher told reporters who came to see him off. He admitted that the job situation was discussed.

The strongest clue that Leo may already have been re-hired or will be soon came from Miss Day who jokingly told one of the reporters that she was considering purchasing a book on "How to Speak Spanish in 10 Easy Lessons." The Dodgers are considering an offer to train in the Dominican Republic.

Durocher plainly was in high spirits over his talk with Rickey. "Mr. Rickey and I had a very friendly discussion," said Leo, revealing that Rickey had summoned him for a 3 p. m. appointment which lasted until 8:30 p. m. "He spoke to me like a father to a son. It was an amicable, pleasant talk all around."

Leo said he had no further appointment with Rickey but that one might be forthcoming soon. "I wouldn't be surprised if I came back at a minute's notice," he said.

"I'm making no bones about it," he added. "I want very much to manage the Dodgers next year. In fact, I repeat an earlier statement, I want to be with the Dodgers until the day I die. But that is up to Mr. Rickey. The entire matter now is in his hands."

Rickey could not be reached for comment. The only news forthcoming from the Dodger official family was a terse announcement from a club spokesman earlier that Durocher had paid a call on Rickey.

Burt Shotton, who did an excellent job filling in for Durocher as Dodger pilot, did not attend the conference, having left for his Florida home. The 63-year-old veteran manager, who came within one victory of steering the Dodgers to their first world championship, has not committed himself as to whether he would like to lead the Brooks again next year. However, he once remarked that he did not wish to jeopardize Durocher's chances of returning.

Shotton was an emergency replacement for Durocher when Leo was suspended by Com. A. H. Chandler on the eve of the 1947 major league season for "conduct unbecoming a major league manager" following charges brought by Larry MacPhail, retired president of the Yankees.

the Braves last spring but he was sent to Indianapolis American Army where he won 11 and lost 12 games.

Fitzgerald hit .335 to take the runner-up spot in Pacific Coast League batting in 1947 and was third in stolen bases with 25. He's 23.

Kuhel, 41, succeeds Ossie Bluege who was made head of the senator's farm system.

President Clark Griffith did not disclose any terms of the contract with Kuhel except that it is for one year.

Kuhel has had four months experience as a manager. Last May 28 he took over the fifth place Hot Springs, Ark., team in the six-team class C Cotton States League.

As manager of Hot Springs, Kuhel was the property of the Chicago White Sox. They released him so that he could take the job here.

In naming Kuhel, Griffith continued his policy of giving managerial chances to former Senator ball players. His managers—Bucky Harris, Joe Cronin, Walter Johnson, Clyde Milan and Elmer all came up from the ranks. For that matter, even the gatekeepers at Griffith Stadium are former Senator ball players.

The highest price the Senators ever spent for a ball player was the $65,000 paid for Kuhel after he hit .372 for Kansas City in 1939.

As a major leaguer, Kuhel always was a fair to good hitter played with the Senators until 1938, when he was swapped to the Chicago White Sox for Zeke Bonura. "The worst deal," says Griffith, "that I ever made."

In 1941, Kuhel came back to the Nats, but when Mickey Vernon came through as a grade A first baseman, Kuhel went back to the White Sox.

Some quotes: Kuhel: "I'm glad to be back." Griffith: "He always hustled, and I believe his players will show the same aggressiveness."

As a sideline, Kuhel does elaborate card tricks, and is a member of the Society of American Magicians.

Some critics think a magician is exactly what Washington needs

BC Holds Arc Light Tuneup

The Boston College Eagles were scheduled to hold their final tune-up under the lights at Braves Field tonight in preparation for their clash with the Kansas State Wildcats tomorrow night at the Allston park. The Mid-Westerners, slated to arrive in the Hub late this afternoon at Logan Airport, also were due to work out under the mazzas at the Wigwam.

Ed Clasby, first string quarterback, reported a slight "Charley horse" but is expected to be on hand for the game. Another back, Ed "Butch" Songin, is still bothered by a bruise on his heel, suffered in the Clemson opener. In the event that he isn't in top shape for the tilt, burly Bill Morro probably will start at fullback.

Only other change in the lineup which started in the opener will be the insertion of little Joe Diminick at the left halfback post. Diminick was the outstanding back of the Clemson tilt.

The Wildcats have run into three straight defeats this season and, although not too potent an outfit, should give the Eagles a battle. They were defeated by Oklahoma A. & M. (12-0), Texas School of Mines (20-6) and New Mexico University (20-18). They have admitted pointing for the Boston game, so they should be tougher than their record shows.

Sam Francis had to leave behind star guard Ed McNeil, who is bothered by an injury.

The big weapon in their attack is 24-year-old Bill Church, a 135-pound quarterback. Church does most of the Kansas State passing and is also an able ball carrier.

Holding his final workout at Alumni Field, Coach Benny Myers put his Eagles through a two-hour session, stressing passing and pass defense. B. C. was noticeably weak on pass defense in the opener and the Eagle mentor has been drilling his charges steadily since the Clemson game.

In the absence of Clasby, understudy Steve Stuka did the tossing for the Eagles. Myers kept shifting backs from offense to defense to give them ample drill on each side.

Medford's Al Cannava was a standout defensively. Time and again he knocked down Stuka's tosses. Little Joe Diminick baffled the defense once or twice with his deceptive antics as did Brockton's Bernie Lanoue.

A surprise visitor to Alumni Field yesterday was Dimitri Saitz, a standout shot putter at B. C. who was on the Olympic team which competed in Berlin in 1938. Saitz was a teammate of Sam Francis, Kansas State head coach, who was also a shot putter on the Olympic team. Appearing at the request of track coach Jack Ryder, Saitz spent some time showing the track candidates how it should be done.

Tufts' Pivot Star Fit for Bates Game

Veteran center Bruce Reed, out for three weeks with a foot injury, will start at tackle Saturday when Tufts plays Bates at Lewiston.

Coach Fred Ellis said the Tufts squad, held to two touchdowns Tuesday by the freshman outfit, has improved. Yesterday, against the Jayvees, the varsity clicked off several touchdowns.

H. C. AIR MINDED

WORCESTER, Oct. 9 (AP)—Indications are that Holy Cross will depend upon a passing game when it clashes with strong Villanova here on Saturday.

Coach "Ox" Dagrosa has had Walt Brennan, Gene DeFilippo, Walt Sheridan and Jimmy Murphy, a fast developing sophomore, tending to recent practice sessions.

Remember when a nickel cigar was only five cents?

You used to be able to get a good cigar for a nickel. A nickel would also buy you a candy bar, a cup of coffee and a bottle of tonic. Not any more! Today, the biggest buy for a nickel is an air mail stamp. Manufacturers say tobacco costs more, sugar costs more, raw coffee costs more, so they've got to add on to the price. Well maybe so, but I say you've got to keep prices down where people can buy what you sell. And the only way to keep prices down is not to raise 'em! That's what I preach—that's what I practice!

38 Governali Oils Gun For Steelers Sunday

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, THURS., OCT. 9, 1947

There's a little matter of personal pride to be taken care of next Sunday afternoon when the Boston Yanks tangle with the Pittsburgh Steelers at Fenway Park and it involves a gent named Paul Governali.

In all his years of football competition—and that extends from Erasmus High to Columbia to the New York Yankees to the Boston Yanks—Paul never had a worse day than last Sunday against the Lions. Paul threw 13 passes and had four intercepted. Last year, Governali had only 11 intercepted all season to lead the league in that department.

Everybody is entitled to an off-day but Governali refuses to take his bad day in stride. He has tremendous pride in his passing ability and will never be happy until he is recognized as the No. 1 passer in the action.

He was tops last year but unfortunately the Yanks had too many over-anxious youngsters who dropped enough passes on him to take leadership honors away from him. However, he still compiled 83 out of 192 for 13 touchdowns.

Governali is a great football player—every grid expert in the nation agrees on that. He had that bad day last Sunday and somebody is going to be in for it. It may be the Pittsburgh Steelers next Sunday afternoon.

Bobby Sullivan, pre-war tailback at Holy Cross who shone with the Ems. of low last fall, now plays wing-back for the Steelers.

Bobby gives the Steelers a threat from that spot for he has the speed to carry on reverses to the weak side and can fire running passes with amazing accuracy.

Joe Renko, former Boston College tackle, is now one of the Steelers' seasoned veterans. . . . Joe pointed up a fumble in the closing minutes of the Lions game two weeks ago and ran it for the touchdown that beat Detroit.

Ed Kelly, Pittsburgh publicity man, relays the news that the Steelers will be at full strength Sunday. . . . the Sutherland conditioning has paid off—there isn't a single man on the hospital list. . . . the Yanks, too, will be in good condition physically. . . . Wally Williams will be the only absentee. . . . Wally's chipped elbow will sideline him for one week.

Donelli Shifts Crisafi to Pivot Post

The unpredictable Aldo "Buff" Donelli another rabbit out of Boston University's hat when he announced that he might start Bill Crisafi at center for Saturday's N.Y.U. game.

With Art Boyle and John Simpson both hors de combat, Donelli felt that he had to do something to strengthen the center of his line, so Crisafi was shifted from his guard berth to help Lou Beardell at the pivot spot.

Crisafi alternated at guard with the injured Al Stewart against Harvard, but the cast has been removed from Stewart's hand, and he will be available for full time guard duty against the Violet.

End Coach Jack Kelleher was very much encouraged by the play of Walt Anderson in the Crimson tussle, so the Waltham lad is slated to start against the New Yorkers in place of Bob Malone.

Wait, a sophomore who won all-star honors at Waltham High in 1943, was a sensation last season. But, for some strange reason, he just didn't cut a first-string berth under Donelli.

Tipping the scales at 172, Walt doesn't let his size bother him and is an excellent punter as well as a very capable pass receiver. Anderson is also one of the bulwarks of the Terrier hockey squad.

Some of the freshmen prospects have been making Donelli's eyes pop this past week, and if two or three of these lads had been available for the Harvard game, the outcome might have been reversed.

While scrimmaging the varsity at Nickerson Field, the frosh, using the N. Y. U. single wing and T-formation plays, ran amok, putting the older Terriers to shame. Bob Boucher of Pittsburgh, a 17-year-old, 170-pound halfback, crashed the varsity goal line for three touchdowns.

A speed merchant on the gridiron, the Pennsylvania product runs the 100-yard dash in 9.6, but his talents do not stop there. He takes a back seat to none of his teammates in the passing department.

Arlington's Chuck Kent, also a freshman, was singled out for praise by Donelli after the scrimmage. The Terrier strategist asserted that Kent had more drive than any back on the varsity squad.

Lou Salvati, a first year man,

WALT ANDERSON
Will Start at BU's Right End

the best prospect to enter BU since Al Wistert, broke his wrist in the scrimmage, and will be sidelined for three or four weeks. Freshman Coach Ed Donnelly has predicted a great future for the Cranston, R. I. lad.

Aside from these regular members of the frosh squad, BU will be using five freshmen, in Saturday's game, who entered last February. Lou Beardell, center, George Winkler and Bob Malone, ends, Dick Morrissey and Dave Barrett tackles, are all eligible for varsity ball.

The shifting of the game from Friday night to Saturday afternoon has proven to be a wise move on the part of the athletic department, for ticket sales have reflected the approval of the fans. . . . Some of the B.U. co-eds are planning a welcoming committee which will meet all of the Terrier opponents upon their arrival in Boston. . . . The group is also planning to run dances and social functions to provide for the visitors' entertainment after the games. . . . The N.Y.U. team will arrive in town tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. rather than today as was originally scheduled. . . . After checking in at the Hotel Kenmore, they will go to Fenway Park for a final practice session.

B. U. FOURTH IN PASS DEFENSE

Figures released by the Eastern College Athletic Conference show that Boston University rates fourth in the East on pass defense. In the two games, the enemy has completed only 6 of 24 attempted passes for a total gain of 79 yards.

On the other hand, George Boston, Terrier end, ranks fifth among pass receivers. Boston, who is a transfer from Harvard, has been on the receiving end of four aerials which have netted B. U. 84 yards.

Harvard Sends 34 Players South

The unbeaten Harvard football team will entrain for Charlottesville, Va., tonight to lock horns with the classy Cavaliers of Virginia. The squad will leave from the South Station on the Federal Express at 11:00 in a party which will include Coach

Dick Harlow, Athletic Director Bill Eingham, Business Manager Carroll Getchell, assistant coaches Kopp and Margarita, Dr. Tom Quigley, trainers Jimmy Cox and Ed Noonan and Manager Johnny Jookins along with 34 players.

The Crimson will take a pre-game workout in the University of Virginia Stadium tomorrow afternoon.

The contest between the two teams has a special significance aside from the fact that it is the first time that a Harvard team has journeyed so far South, in that it marks the initial appearance of a Negro competitor on a southern sports field of a major college. Chester Pierce, a tackle, will be making this history when he lines up opposite the Cavaliers. The decision was reached when the issue was put to a vote among the Virginia squad members. They unanimously agreed to Pierce playing.

In the past, Negro players have made trips but always confined themselves to the bench. Pierce, out of the first two games. An outstanding passer, Brown scored 18 touchdowns in his first two years of varsity ball. Brown and Bruce Bailey form the spearhead of the Cavaliers' offense.

The players making the trip: backs Chuck Roche, Hal Moffitt, Gubby Warren, Jim Kenary, Ken O'Donnell, Jim Noonan, Bucks Harrison, Captain Vince Moravec, Paul Luzzaro, George Goodrich, Leo Flynn, Tom Gannon, and Herb O'Connell, centers: Chuck Glynn, Don Stone, and Bill Hekey; guards Emil Drvaric, Howard Foster, Bob Drennan, Kennedy Middendorf, Jim Feinberg, and Dick Guder; tackle: Chet Pierce, Howie Houston, Dean Markham, Doug Bradley, Al Stone, and John Gorczynski; ends: John Fiorentino, Wally Flynn, Walt Coulson, George Hill, Tom Velt, and John Gaudin.

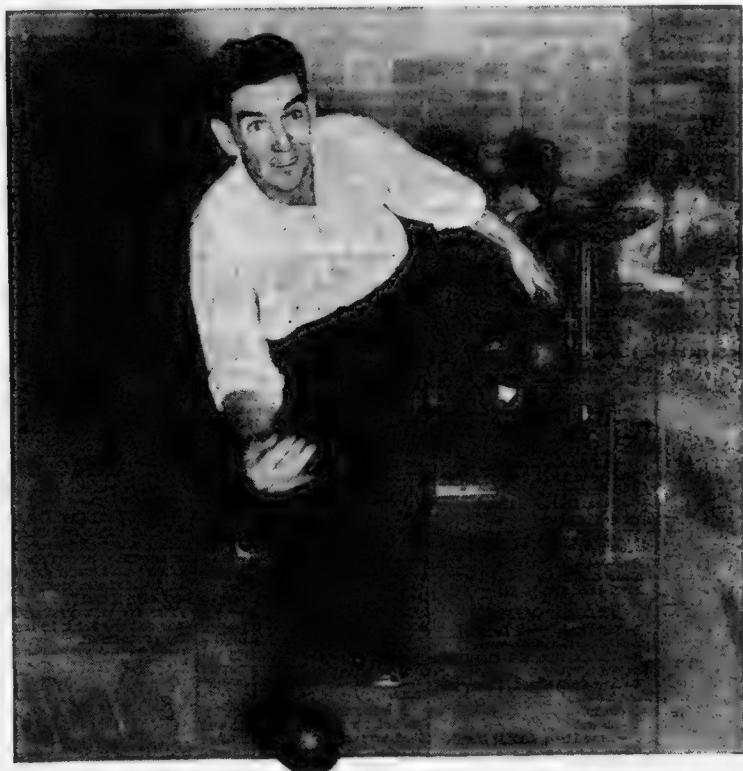

This week's tilt will see the return of Roy Brown to the Virginia backfield after an injury kept him out of the first two games. An outstanding passer, Brown scored 18 touchdowns in his first two years of varsity ball. Brown and Bruce Bailey form the spearhead of the Cavaliers' offense.

Harlow and his crew should be on rebound after being thoroughly pushed to the wire by spirited B. U. . . . Howard Houston will be out to continue his top-notch work in the first two games. The big Haverhill boy is the bear of the line and will probably see many more 60-minute games before the season is through . . . Paul Luzzaro is being groomed for plenty of work after the flashy performance he turned in last week as understudy for Captain Vince Moravec. He is well known in local fans as a former high school star at Wakefield, the same year that Larry Bartnick made All-Scholastic from the same school.

STONE WALL
—Howard Houston, 200-pound former All-Scholastic from Haverhill High School, is expected to give the Virginia backs a tough time Saturday at Charlottesville. He has been a defensive standout in both games Harvard has played this season.

O'Dwyer Asks Strike Delay

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer has asked Local 814, International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL), to call off its scheduled strike at the Belmont Park race track pending a meeting with a city mediator today.

Union members, who drive vans used to transport thoroughbreds, were scheduled to strike today and there were reports that other AFL workers at the track—program printers, waiters, grooms and exercise boys—might follow the lead of the van drivers.

Officials of the track and of the union were not immediately available for comment on whether they would attend the mediators' session and postpone the strike.

The grooms and exercise boys last month voted in a State Labor Relations Board election to be represented by the teamsters union.

A strike by the grooms and exercise boys last year resulted in drastic cutting of the fields as horses competing at the New York tracks are stabled at Belmont, Jamaica and Aqueduct and drivers refused to transport horses from one track to another during the strike.

May Stock Ware River District As Restrictions Are Removed

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

At a recent meeting of the Worcester County League of Sportsmen's Clubs, at East Templeton, which was attended by 19 member organizations, it was announced that the Metropolitan District Commission has approved the League's recommendation that the area on the Ware River Watershed, controlled by the Commission above the covered bridge at Coldbrook, be opened to unrestricted hunting and fishing.

Thus, special permits will no longer be required in the above area. Director James Power, of the Fisheries and Game Div., has also been informed that he may make plans to stock the streams and woodlands there, if so desired.

This region is opened to sportsmen, of course, with the understanding that all rules and regulations must be heeded. If not, the present restrictions will be enforced again.

At the meeting, it was reported that all bills for new legislation must be in by Dec. 15, and a lively discussion of the striped bass situation ensued. Although the seining of stripers is now legally prohibited, the members felt that certain further controls of commercial fishing might be necessary, in order to insure the future of the species as a sport fish.

And those close to the sport wondered why seining of bass has been carried on all summer in local waters, without even one conviction by the Marine Fisheries Division!

Since Gov. Bradford will have to appoint a new Director of Fisheries and Game in a few months, the League offered the suggestion that the Governor might make his selection from a list of qualified men named by the various colleges which graduate individuals in Wildlife Management.

A letter from the Division regarding stream improvement was read, and on motion, it was voted unanimously to invite the aquatic biologist to attend the next meeting and explain the program, with a view to ascertaining how the league could co-operate as a body, as well as the various clubs.

Report Plenty Deer in Maine

AUGUSTA, Me., Oct. 9 (AP)—If they're willing to do a little real hunting, gunners won't have much trouble bagging a deer in the season opening Oct. 21 in Maine's six northern counties, game wardens reported today.

Warden Supervisor Charles E. Harrison of Mapleton said there were "more deer in my section than there have been for some time—but they're deep in the woods."

The deer, which will help many a larder in these days of high meat prices—are beginning to show up in the fields in less heavily wooded areas, Supervisor Raymond L. Morse of the Ellsworth area said. Similar reports came from the Rangeley district. The deer hunting season opens in the rest of the state Nov. 1 and closes throughout Maine on Nov. 30.

Out-of-Court Settlement Seen in Foxboro Track Case

A bench conference was held in Suffolk Superior Court today with indication that an out-of-court settlement may be reached in the suit of Joseph W. Doherty, Brookline broker, to collect $25,000 for services allegedly rendered in inaugurating racing at the Foxboro harness track, Kankookes.

Earlier, Atty. Edward O. Proctor, counsel for Paul Bowser, promoter of the track, in his final argument had asked that the action be dismissed on the ground that Doherty "does not come in to court with clean hands."

Atty. Edmund O'Callaghan, denying illegality on the part of Doherty, had agreed that the bill of complaint insofar as Elias M. Loew, millionaire theater magnate was concerned, be dismissed, leaving only the track and Bowser as defendants.

Huskies' Backfield At Peak for Devens

With the return to starting status of George Lucas and Bob McIntyre, the Northeastern backfield quartet against Devens on Saturday at Huntington Field will be the strongest of the season, in the opinion of head coach Johnny Grinnell.

Lucas, the Somerville sophomore who started every game as a freshman last year, has been bothered by minor injuries after making a late practice start.

He was two weeks behind the squad in assignment work, so he is just catching up.

McIntyre had much the same story, for he was two weeks late and only last week started to round into shape. He had an extra week's lay-off with a bad cold, so he was greatly missed, although he has played in a reserve capacity in both Northeastern games so far.

Lucas is the running threat in the Husky backfield and can play either left half or fullback. He also does some passing. McIntyre is the best punter on the squad and runs very hard from T-formation. He starts fast and used his 200 pounds to good advantage.

Third man on the cross of the T will be Jim Douglas of Jamaica Plain, who has been Northeastern's best forward-passer. Douglas weighs only 175, but he is durable and a great competitor. His passing, especially to new end Don Kerivan, has given the Huskies a definite aerial threat.

The quarterback assignment may be split between John Conroy of Brookline and Jimmy Orphanos of Lynn. Conroy has been bothered with a leg ailment and cannot play the entire game, but Orphanos has improved so rapidly that he is now on a par with Conroy. Orphanos is a good passer from the T-formation, as he demonstrated against Maine last week.

The elevation of Lucas and McIntyre does not mean that big Herb Von Ew and Guido Barbic, Jr. will be forgotten men. Both boys will get plenty of action, since Grinnell believes in substituting freely. He now feels that he has two backfields of almost equal strength, so the Huskies may break the jinx that has been dogging them all year.

Gage of Clemson Top Ground Gainer

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Although his team has lost two of its first three games, Bobby Gage of Clemson is the individual ground gaining leader among all the college football players of the country at this early stage in the 1947 season.

Statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau show that Gage has accounted for a total of 646 yards in 81 plays against Presbyterian, Boston College and Wake Forest. Of that total, he picked up 445 yards on 19 completed forward passes, four of which went for touchdowns. He also carried the ball 32 times and gained 201 yards.

Rex Olsen of Brigham Young stands second among the leaders in combined rushing and passing, having gained 480 yards on 74 plays. Olsen's record of completing 42 of 69 attempted passes for a total of 450 yards places him at the head of the nation's passers. Harry Ghall of Miami is the top punter to date, with an average of 44.8 yards on 12 kicks in two games, while Barney Poole of Mississippi heads the pass receivers, having caught 17 forwards, three of which were for touchdowns.
